This historic masseria in Puglia provides great value for money for larger groups and families. It oozes history and charm and is filled with authentic features and history. Whilst it's only a couple of minutes drive from the nearest amenities, you will feel like you're in the middle of nowhere when staying at Masseria Abbraccia.

All five bedrooms in this historic masseria enjoy direct access to the garden. Since they are not all connected internally, this may make the property unsuitable for families with young children. The first four of the five bedrooms at this historic masseria are both double bedrooms, accessed via a central courtyard. They overlook the lemon grove. All are equipped with a double bed and have an ensuite shower room. The last bedroom is inside an old trullo. This is another double bedroom with a small living area with fireplace and a large private garden overlooking the olive grove. It also has a bathroom with shower. This is a great room for those looking for a bit of extra privacy from the rest of the group. All bedrooms are fully air-conditioned with independent heating controls. This historic masseria also boasts a professional kitchen and a spacious living area. This is elegantly furnished in neutral tones with comfortable seating. A separate dining area has a lovely central table and is perfect for those looking to dine together inside. Please note that heating is an additional charge for those staying during the winter months.

This authentic and historic masseria is situated in the heart of the countryside between Otranto and Santa Maria di Leuca. It's just a few minutes drive (1.5 km) from the town of Tricase and just 2 km from Tricase Porto. The beaches here are stunning, characterised by crystal clear seas. The nearest airport to this historic masseria is at Salento. The journey from the airport will take about an hour. Alternatively, Bari airport is about 2.5 hours away.
